

52 Squadron Communications Tool

52 Squadron has selected the “TeamApp” to be the primary communications tool for the cadets of the squadron. This will be the way that the military side of the operation sends out updates, information and sign-ups for in-person activities. You, as parents, may join as well to keep up on what information is being sent out.

This application offers website access to those who do not have cell phones, or a mobile version. In both versions, you can receive real-time notifications. Our social media (Facebook and Instagram) will continue to be used for the good news stories we share to the world on the amazing things all of you do for yourselves and the community. Our website will continue to remain a source of much needed information.

Our sponsoring committee will continue to use Sign Up Genius for certain events requiring parent sign-ups. We’d ask that parents (new and returning) continue to share their email addresses with our sponsoring committee for that purpose.

Below are instructions on how to download and set up the TeamApp.

This will assist the moderators in ensuring member is placed in the appropriate groups.
